AUGUST 2011

Great News!

What a blessing to see Robert down at the soup kitchen. November 2010, he was diagnosed with colon cancer they are continuing to run tests but so far he's cancer free.

Helping Hands Ministries of Harrisburg has been touched by Poland. Yadzia (yaja) was visiting her son in Harrisburg, spoke no English but wanted to help, her son had been down at Thanksgiving serving. Thank God for translate google and the French I took in high school. Yadzia knew French so voila la communication!

While I volunteered at Creation Fest Northeast, meals needed to be prepared, served, door unlocked, and relocked, donations picked up. I want to thank: Jill, Lindsay, Susan, St. Johns Lutheran Disciple group for preparing the meals, Patrick for Wegmans pick up, Mark for standing in my place keeping all organized. I am so blessed!

School Project

Shakina is our newest volunteer. She is doing her senior project on the homeless and what better way to do research than hands on experience, Emmanuel Baptist Church had pasta dinners last week and the leftovers "my guys" loved!

Thank you Sarah, Shannon, Drew, Melanie, Susan, Susan L, Patrick, Sam, and Mark, who filled in for me while I was away on family business.

From My Heart

Why does “from my heart” always be about the death of “someone in our family”. In life there is death.

Steve was an alcoholic. He developed facial growths that were huge and it was cancer. They removed the growths but it was a little too late. Steve died in a warm dry place.

I would like to share another sad passing. Nate, lovingly known as the governor. He always wore a tie to meals. Nate was a quiet man, unfortunately we don't know much about his death, HIPPA.

We had a fond farewell to Bob Miller who passed away from cancer this summer. He was owner of Specialty Cakes by Bob Miller in the Windsor Park Shopping Center. We are thankful for the years of donating cakes, cookies and cupcakes. The new owner has continued to donate their “goodies.”

As you know we don't just feed the anyone who is needy, or anyone who doesn't want to eat alone—all are welcome.

I love all “my guys.”

I want to thank Craig for coming over and helping with the “grunge work.” He helps clean up and stock shelves. I am thankful for his willingness to get messy.

The rains came, the water came up, many people including us had water damage and a mess. I do know that although trials come, my God is in control and will never leave me or forsake me.
